

National Institutes of Health

Turning Discovery Into Health

National Institutes of Health - Tribal Advisory Committee Nominations for New Members Requested

The National Institutes of Health (NIH) Tribal Advisory Committee (TAC) was established in 2015 to provide a venue wherein tribal representatives and NIH staff can exchange information about NIH research policies and program priorities. As an advisory committee, the NIHTAC provides recommendations on the development of relevant NIH policies, programs, and priorities.

Vacancies open for nomination include:

- Aberdeen/Great Plains Area (Delegate and Alternate)
- Alaska Area (Delegate and Alternate)
- Albuquerque Area (Delegate and Alternate)
- Bemidji Area (Delegate and Alternate)
- Billings Area (Alternate)
- California Area (Alternate)
- Nashville Area (Delegate and Alternate)
- Oklahoma Area (Alternate)
- Phoenix Area (Delegate and Alternate)
- Portland Area (Delegate and Alternate)
- Tucson Area (Delegate and Alternate)
- National At-Large Members (2 Delegates and 5 Alternates)

Each area representative must be an elected official or a tribal employee, who is designated to act on behalf of a tribal leader. Each national at-large representative must be an elected official or designated representative who is qualified to represent the views of tribes from a national collective perspective.

Nominations should be submitted no later than August 1, 2017.

More information about the NIHTAC and the nominations process can be found at <https://dpcpsi.nih.gov/thro>. If you have questions, please email NIHTribalCommittee@od.nih.gov.